Call to Confession and Prayer of Confession

We come to worship challenged by the Scriptures, by events of our world today, by people experiencing massive dislocations in their lives, and by our own expectations of ourselves. In light of these challenges, let us now confess our sin to God.

Precious Lord, we come into the brightness of your glory knowing that we have fallen short in so many ways this week. There have been times when your light showed us the path to take, but we did not take it because it looked difficult.

There have been times you gave us someone to love, but we were so caught up in our own anxieties that we did not respond.

There have been times you called us forward, but we lagged behind rather than respond to the challenge of being your disciples.

There have been times when we could have been peacemakers, but we would not be budged from our attitudes of indifference.

Redeem us and transform us by the radiance of your love that we may continually become the persons you had in mind when You created us. Amen. (silent prayer)

Assurance of Forgiveness

As the Psalmist wrote: "Whoever is wise, let them give heed to these things; let them consider the steadfast love of the Lord."

In God's steadfast love, we are forgiven and made whole!

Thanks be to God!

NEXT STEPS

- ◆ What did you hear or experience in worship this morning?
- ◆ If integrity is a match between what is on the inside and the outside of a person, where in your life and relationships do you want to live with greater integrity this week?
- ◆ What does it mean that Jesus whose glory the disciples saw on the mountain, lives within you and empowers you?
